BIOGRAPHICAL INFORMATION

Elizabeth Morgan Haskins (1913-2004) was born in Worcester, Massachusetts to William H. and Margaret E. (Nolan) Haskins. She was a graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, with a BS in Mathematics in 1935 and a MS in Mathematics in 1936. After her graduation, she was employed by MIT in aerodynamics research.

She enlisted in the Women’s Army Corps during World War II, achieved the rank of Captain and served from 1943-1946 in active duty as a photograph interpreter for the 8th Air Force and British Royal Air Force. She received the European Theatre Medal and the World War II Victory Medal.

Upon her discharge from the military, Haskins took a position at Fitchburg State College as a faculty member in the Mathematics Department. She taught math and physics for over thirty-one years from 1947 until her retirement in 1978.

SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

The collection consists of personal papers and photographs of Elizabeth Morgan Haskins. The bulk of the collection is comprised of military records related to her service in the Women’s Army Corps, but also included are genealogical records, photographs and correspondence on audio cassettes.
